SAPPHIRE™

HIGHLY FLEXIBLE NEAR-INFRARED SENSOR SORTING SYSTEM

MAXIMIZE SORTING EFFICIENCY.
MINIMIZE CONTAMINATION LEVELS.

The MSS Sapphire™ is a highly advanced near-infrared (NIR) sensor sorting system that is capable of identifying polymer materials by type as well as other materials (drink cartons, paper, etc.)

The Sapphire™ provides MRFs and other recyclers an affordable solution for automated optical separation for various applications. While the standard Sapphire™ module generates two or three output streams from one input stream, it can sort two input streams at the same time in a split configuration, generating a total of up to six outputs.

As a division of CP Manufacturing, MSS designs optical sorting solutions that integrate with the world's most advanced mechanical separation technology.

The incoming material is distributed over the machine width and travels underneath the sensor array, which is mounted on top and at the end of a high/speed acceleration belt. State-of-the-art electronics process the signals from the NIR sensor and activate corresponding air valves, which eject the targeted material upward or downward.

The Sapphire™ features a user-friendly color touchscreen with advanced diagnostics, setup flexibility, and remote access modem or Ethernet.

The Sapphire™ provides the operator with real-time statistics that can be used for daily reports or for quality control certificates per truck load.
